OTHG History by John Justus

10 years ago December 2011

In his Prez Sez column Bill Ensley had best wishes and season's greetings for everyone. It is a club tradition that the December car of the month is the outgoing club president's car. Therefore, this year it is Bill's 1941 Ford coupe. Dick Raczuk was on a Christmas vacation so there was no shop tip article. Since this was the last Road Rash issue of the year, it was very short. There was no member profile and the 50\50 winner was not listed.

Jim O'Leary

(1939-2021)

Jim passed away on Sunday Nov. 21st, at the age of 82.
In Jim's early years he was the engine builder for the Shelby-Ford Race Team (remember 'Ford vs. Ferrari')?
Jim had a nice 34 Ford cabriolet, a 56 Nomad and a twin turbo 24-foot Campbell boat.
Jim is survived by his wife Patty and son JP. He was an early and current member to the OTHG and although he couldn't attend that many meetings (Patty has MS) he always looked forward to the newsletters.

How to Clamp Braided Stainless Steel Hose and Fitting

Over the years I've done my share of AN hose assembly projects. These jobs can be a piece of cake or a major pain in the neck. As most of you know already, the biggest hurdle to cross is inserting the hose into the socket. If you don't get a clean cut on your braided stainless steel hose it can be a nightmare getting it into the the fitting. That's why I invented the AN Hose Assembly Tool to funnel the frayed ends into the nut.

Once you get the hose into the socket and installed all the way to the threads, most of the ugly stuff is behind you. However, there is one more potential obstacle that can be just as frustrating. When you go to screw the fitting into the nut, the AN hose can push out of the end you just installed it into.

Recently, I discovered a way to clamp braided stainless steel hose with AN vise jaw inserts. Place the inserts so that they are sticking halfway out of the vise. As you can see in the photo, both the fitting and the hose are secured tightly. You probably don't need to mark the hose anymore, but it's never a bad idea just to be safe.
